Quota System For Marketing Of Milk Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Industry-wide control with a government imposed quota system of milk marketing on all dairymen in the Fraser Valley, and control of the ice cream market, is urged by the valley's largest organized group of dairy farmers.

A. H. Mercer, general manager of Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, made the suggestions yesterday at the provincial milk board's hearing.

He said that the B.C. lower mainland faces "a drastic milk shortage" within the next two months unless the government imposes market controls on the entire industry.

"The farmers do need more money for their milk," he said, "but I'm not prepared to say how much."

Mercer maintained that a quota system of marketing would present a guaranteed milk market, in times of surplus, to all producers who had managed to meet the market's demands during periods of slack production.

TOO MUCH MOMENTUM

Canadian Living-Cost Index Still Climbing

OTTAWA—Some of the steam was taken out of the upward climb of the cost-of-living index in August but it had too much momentum to be stopped.

Consumers had to be consoled with the report yesterday of the Bureau of Statistics that although the index jumped to a record 189.8 from 188.9, the jump of 0.9 points was the smallest since last April.

A decline in prices for a variety of food items was the only real bright spot.

Lopat Hurls 5-Hitter In 2nd Game

By LEO H. PETERSEN
NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Yankees, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Eddie Lopat, evened the world series by defeating the New York Giants 3-1 today.

Coming back from yesterday's 5-1 opening game defeat, the American League champions hopped on Larry Jansen, Giant star right-hander, for single runs in the first and second innings which proved to be enough to win.

Off relief pitcher George Spencer, however, they added a third run in the eighth after the Giants had come up with their only score in the seventh.

Lopat had the Giants hitting at his slow curve ball futilely all through the hot sunny afternoon and was in trouble only in the seventh.

His teammates got him a run before Jansen, a 23-game winner, could retire a single batter.

MANTLE INJURED

Mickey Mantle, who later sprained his right knee in running for a fly ball and had to leave the game, started it off by beating out a bunt. Little Phil Rizzuto, bunted too, Mantle racing all the way to third when Giant first baseman Whitey Lockman threw wildly in a belated attempt to throw Rizzuto out.

Rookie Gil McDougald then dropped a single to short right field and Mantle sped across the plate.

In the second, first baseman Joe Collins made it 2-0 by blasting a home run into the right field stands.

Jansen settled down after that and was finally lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

British Dock Strike Said Red Promoted

LONDON (CP)—A dock strike which involved 87 ships, cost £150,000 in lost wages and a loss of 86,330 working days, was promoted and prolonged by a Communist-led organization, says a parliamentary report.

The strike of 2,500 Manchester dockers lasted six weeks in April and June this year. The report, published yesterday by Labor Minister Alfred Robens, says the unofficial strike leaders went to "unusual lengths" to keep the strike alive.

"An organization seems to have been created in Manchester," the report says, "that was all ready to take advantage of the dispute when it occurred."

"This organization obviously owed its origin to the port workers' committee in London. The unofficial leaders seem to have gone to unusual lengths to keep the strike alive. The strike ended only when the men repudiated them completely."

The London committee has been prominent in every major dispute at the Port of London since the Second World War ended. An official White Paper blamed the Communist-led committee for the long and costly London dock strike in 1949, which had as its purported cause a dispute involving the Canadian Seamen's Union.

"The C.S.U., expelled from the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress as a Communist organization and no longer recognized as a union by the Canadian Labor Relations Board, has been replaced on the Great Lakes by Seafarers' International Union."

Prices were lower for certain vegetables (including potatoes, carrots, cabbage, turnips, onions), pork shoulder cuts and lamb, bananas, fish products and vegetable shortening.

Prices were up for beef, bacon, butter, cheese, eggs, cocoa, oranges and canned vegetables. However, for the first time since last April the overall food sub-index—considered the most important in the general index—declined. Its drop of 0.3 points knocked down the food index from its peak of 251.4 to 251.1.

But the rest of the report told of higher prices for rents, woolen goods, footwear, coal and coke, dishes, hardware, floor coverings, transportation and recreation.

In fact prices had risen to the point where a dollar in August bought only as much as 52 cents did in the 1935-39 period. The entire range of price climbs pushed living costs in Canada up 88.3 per cent since August, 1939.

Although they haven't been too good a barometer in the past, lower wholesale prices in September may point to a similar decline in the retail end later on.

The bureau reported its whole sale index for 30 industrial materials declined to 285.3 on Sept. 28, down 2.0 points from 287.3 on Aug. 31.

Schacht-Keenleyside Spat Termed Surprise

JAKARTA, Indonesia (CP)—Sir Mirza Ismail, resident United Nations official in Jakarta, said today he is quitting his job because his boss, Canadian-born Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, insulted a former Nazi bigwig.

Ismail, an Indian resident representative of the U.N. technical assistance administration, said "despicable" was the word for Keenleyside's conduct at a reception here Wednesday night.

Keenleyside, director-general of the technical assistance mission, refused to shake hands with Hjalmar Schacht at a reception given by Ismail.

Schacht, who helped "juggle" German finances so Hitler could build his vast war machine, and Keenleyside are visiting in Indonesia.

Keenleyside said yesterday he had refused to shake Schacht's hand when they were introduced at the reception because he felt no U.N. official should fraternize socially with a man who represented so completely something the U.N. was organized to oppose.

Schacht said at a press conference today that he would sue Keenleyside if he had the money to launch such an action.

"It does not show much psychological insight on the part of the U.N. to send such a man to promote goodwill for that institution," Schacht said.

Dr. Keenleyside is a former deputy minister of mines and resources in the Canadian government.

He and Schacht, who helped engineer the financing of Hitler's war machine, met at a reception given by Sir Mirza Ismail, resident representative of the technical assistance administration.

Other guests quoted the Canadian as saying: "I know your black record. I shall have nothing to do with you."

U.N. sources in New York said there is no established protocol covering a meeting between U.N. officials and former Nazis.

PEARSON SURPRISED
"Canada's external affairs minister" L. B. Pearson, was obviously surprised when informed in Ottawa of Keenleyside's action. Other associates there said such conduct was foreign to Keenleyside's character.

Schacht, whose statement was issued by the Indonesian news agency Aneta, continued: "Regrettably I have not sufficient dollar funds to sue Dr. Keenleyside. I can only publicly call him a slanderer. I hope and beg he will file charges against me in Germany."

Schacht, president of Hitler's Reichsbank and later finance minister, said no charge of crimes against humanity had been brought against him during the Nurnberg trials.

"If I had 'actively supported' Hitler's regime in the times of the gas chambers and concentration camps, the prosecution in Nurnberg would have not spared me," he said.

Keenleyside said later that he had never before met the German, but that he had studied his wartime and prewar record. He said active collaboration with Hitler during the time of gas chambers and concentration camps could not be excused by his later falling out with the Nazi leader.

United Nations officials in New York said the U.N. is taking no official notice of the Jakarta incident.

Foe's Battered Armies Reel Before U.N. Push

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (UP)—The United Nations' 100,000-man offensive in west Korea has broken the Communists' "winter line," a British staff officer said today.

Battered Red armies gave up their fortified positions and reeled northward before the crushing onslaught of five U.N. divisions which captured seven strategic hills on the third day of their push along a 40-mile front.

"The Chinese broke and ran this morning," Brig. George Taylor told the United Press at a western-front command post of the British Commonwealth Division.

"I feel that we have handed them a major defeat and I believe we have broken their winter line."

Taylor said the hills seized in the Allied offensive today were fortified with bunkers 20 feet deep, indicating that the Chinese Communists had dug in for the winter. The Chinese left new winter gear behind when they fled, Taylor said.

The British Commonwealth Division drove forward 1 1/2 miles today to capture two hills west of Yonchon against moderate resistance. American troops north of Yonchon and west of Chorwon captured two hills when the Chinese pulled back and later, 1st Cavalry Division soldiers above Yonchon captured three smaller hills.

A seven-day assault by flame-throwers, tanks and infantrymen had paved the way for the gains by the U.S. 3rd Division north of Yonchon. The Chinese regrouped late this afternoon and attacked the 7th Cavalry Regiment atop one hill. The battle still raged tonight.

One Chinese counter-attack shoved the British Northumberland Fusiliers off a captured hill briefly but the Britons swept right back and took it again.

Resistance melted soon after dawn, however. From all along the offensive front came reports of nonexistent to only moderate opposition.

The U.N. forces were slow to follow up the full extent of the enemy's mysterious pullback. They seized only their immediate objectives, then sent patrols fanning out into no-man's-land to seek out the enemy's intentions.

West of Chorwon, the U.S. 3rd Division sent its 15th Regiment against a height which had resisted capture for nearly a week. The troops went all the way to the peak without drawing fire. The Reds apparently had pulled out during the night.

An 8th Army spokesman estimated that the Reds during the past two days of bloody fighting on the hill had used three regiments of infantry—perhaps 10,000 men—and six artillery battalions to hold the 3rd Division at bay.

'CULPABLE NEGLECT' City Driver Faces Manslaughter Charge

A coroner's jury today brought in a verdict of culpable neglect against motorist Sydney Pegg, 27, of 46 Sims Avenue.

It came at an inquest at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlors into the death of Mrs. Gladys Frew, 48, of 520 Walter Avenue. She was a passenger in the car of Pegg, which crashed into a telephone pole on Gorge Road last Saturday.

The jury said the present sign at Gorge and Harriet Roads is not adequate to warn the driving public of a dangerous hilly curve.

Pegg will face trial on a charge of manslaughter laid by Saanich police.

AFTER PARTY
Evidence was that Pegg was driving Mr. and Mrs. Jock Frew home after they had attended a downtown dance.

Testimony was that Mrs. Frew was lying across the back seat and Frew on the right of the driver when they came to the hilly curve.

Pegg, giving evidence freely on the advice of counsel Jack Ruffan, said that Frew—who admitted he had had "quite a few drinks"—fell across him, knocking his right hand off the steering wheel.

Pegg said he touched the brakes and the car went out of control and left the road—on the wrong side. The driver said he succeeded in missing the first telephone pole narrowly, swerved to miss the second but hit it with his right front fender.

In reply to a question, Pegg said he had not been drinking. He estimated his speed on the main part of the road to be not over 30 m.p.h.

Before rendering a verdict, the jury, through foreman Robert Hogarth, insisted on seeing the scene of the accident. They were transported there and Saanich police showed them the route of the car, tire marks still showing.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

FAMILY TREES

THE craze for ancestor-hunting—which is one of those crazes I could never quite understand—has spread to Canada. This land where once everybody was a rugged individualist, caring little who or what his forebears were, now has been smitten with the bug for finding blue blood in veins that once delighted in a predominance of red corpuscles.

And I have it on the word of the editor of Debrett, that British roster of aristocracy which records all the facts—and ramifications—of the peerage. He says that since he traced a family link between our present Queen Elizabeth and William Shakespeare, all sorts of people have been writing to him to trace their family tree.

ONTARIO ENQUIRY

HE and his staff of experts, for instance, have been busy working on the family tree of a Chatham, Ont., woman. She sent him a thousand names of her known ancestors. And the experts have confirmed that the Chatham lady is a descendant of King Alfred the Great, who reigned in Britain between the years 871-900.

Now I haven't any doubt that the lady feels all the better for knowing that a few drops of royal blood course through her Canadian veins. And, no doubt, she is very proud of it—even though the blue drops must be "somewhat" few after so many centuries of dilution.

CAKES AND CREST

BUT as all I recollect of that particular king's contribution to history—or perhaps I should have said history books—is that he very carelessly burned some cakes he was told to watch, I am hoping that particular royal failing has not persisted in the strain along with the blue blood.

Yet, who knows, the cakes may be a blessing in disguise for, from my experience of people who suddenly discover they have ancestors a cut above the ordinary run-of-the-mill forebears, the Chathamite will probably want an armorial coat-of-arms as evidence of her kinship to a king. And what better than a baking of burned cakes rampant on an iron-stove field, or a hot-cross-bun-like quartering?

AUSTRALIAN COUSIN

THE also has another cause for satisfaction for, among the newer branches of the family tree that had its roots in the cake-burning king, has turned up another cousin, of the many-many-times-removed variety. He is an Australian, whose ancestors were investigated at his request just about the time the Canadian woman started her search for her ancestral starting-place. And the Debrett experts dug down until they found his start down among the royal rootlets; too.

POSTERITY, PERHAPS

AS I noted earlier, the urge to prove the presence of blue blood in the veins of people who had hitherto been content with their plebeian origin is something rather new for Canada. The majority of people in this great, new country have usually been too busy making a living in the present to bother much about their past antecedents—at least, about anyone more remote than a great-grandmother—particularly the present generation of Canadians.

Some of them show more interest in posterity than in ancestry—even though there are still more who think along the same lines as the young man who, when asked to help preserve some particular beauty spot for posterity, replied: "Why should I? What has posterity done for me?"

RASCALLY ROOTS

IN between those two extremes there are, of course, the great majority who feel, with me, that it doesn't matter much what and who your ancestors were as long as you yourself are decent enough to ensure that posterity won't have to be ashamed of you. As for my own progenitors, I have a suspicion that they probably included a horse-thief or two among them, while at the same time I can go back farther than Alfred the Great and can dig up my roots somewhere around the old Adam.

Or, as Sheridan expressed it: "Our ancestors are very good kind of folks; but they are the last people I should choose to have a visiting acquaintance with."

Elephants Cause Suit

CLEVELAND (AP).—A 23-year-old mother asked $50,000 damages yesterday for injuries she said she received while fleeing from 12 elephants. Mrs. Geraldine Niles filed the suit against Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Circus. She said she fell fleeing a 1950 performance during which 12 elephants got out of control and fell against the seats where she was sitting.

The State of Idaho was named from the Indian words "Edah Hoe" meaning "light on the mountains."

THOMPSON ESCAPES ON DEATH CHARGE

Awaits Sentence On Dangerous Driving Following Fatal Automobile Mishap

An Assize Court jury Thursday acquitted Peter Thompson, 23, of a charge of manslaughter but found him guilty of a lesser charge of dangerous driving arising out of the death of Gnr. Leon Aubrey of the Gordon Head army camp.

Aubrey, of Three River, Que., was struck down by the accused's small English car on Sinclair Road, Saanich, on the night of April 15. The victim was accompanied by two other soldiers when the accident occurred.

The jury deliberated for over an hour before returning with a verdict. Mr. Justice J. M. Coady remanded Thompson for sentence.

Thompson's case was fought by lawyer George F. Gregory who claimed that one of the three soldiers aimed a rock at the accused's car as he was driving to work. Thompson ducked and lost control of his car which struck the accused before coming to a standstill on the road bank, counsel argued.

ARENA ROOF STILL LEAKS

"They will be called on to make it good," he stated.

The committee instructed comptroller Henry Watson to engage the services of architect Henry Whitaker to supervise the repairs.

SEVENTH INNING
GIANTS—Irvin swung and missed at two pitches and then drilled a slow ball into center for a single. Lockman poked a single to center. Mays batted, but Brown forced Lockman at second. Irvin going to third and Mays beating the relay first. Westrum walked on a full count to load the bases with one out. Bill Rigney, a right-hander, batted for Thompson and Hank Shantz ran for Westrum. Rigney hit a high fly to right field. Irvin scoring after the catch and Mays going to third. Ray Noble, catcher, batted for Jansen and hit a pop foul to Berra to end the inning.

One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

YANKS—George Spencer replaced Jansen on the mound. Noble went behind the plate and Clint Hartung replaced Thompson in right field. DiMaggio hit a grounder to Thompson, who threw him out. Stanky tossed out Berra. Dark threw out Woodling.

Check Nation's Health By Household Surveys

Research Team Takes Saanich In Last Count

By AILEEN CAMPBELL
State of the nation's health will be determined when results of the Canada Sickness Survey, currently winding up in Saanich, are released.

The cross-country survey began a year ago with 10,000 Canadian households representing 30,000 people, picked at random, according to Robert Cooper, research assistant assigned to direct the provincial survey.

"We are trying to determine the sickness patterns existing within our country," said Mr. Cooper, who is assisting the Saanich Health Unit to bring their records up to date.

In B.C. 2,220 households were selected and individual sickness records kept for a year.

WIDEST SURVEY
"It is the first time a study of this magnitude has been made in Canada," said Mr. Cooper. "We hope to determine the public health needs of the population."

The survey will also reveal the expenditures necessary to maintain health standards; the hospital and medical care required. When collection of data is completed, compilation will begin and preliminary reports are expected in six months' time.

"It was the wonderful co-operation of the public which helped make the survey so successful," said Mr. Cooper.

Wins Cocktail Title
TURIN, Italy (AP)—The 1951 European cocktail-making championship yesterday went to Italy's Orlando Luminari. He produced an exotic drink named "black and white" and called his victory "psychological." The drink looks better than it tastes. A "black and white" is made with chocolate powder mixed with curacao and cognac, and is topped with whipped cream.

Laugh Causes Arrest
FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A man was laughing so hard last night in a movie that a woman in front of him turned around to look. The woman recognized him as a man wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife. Police said they arrested Ralph Rogers, 26, after the unidentified woman's phone tip.

Sugar, molasses and beet-pulp from Canadian-grown sugar beets in 1950 reached a value of $34,000,000.

It Won't Work

THE C.C.F. WILL HARDLY CONSIDER Mr. Hugh Gaitskell, British chancellor of the exchequer, a witness prejudiced against socialism. Mr. Gaitskell is a life-long socialist and the responsible financial head of a socialist government. Yet it is Mr. Gaitskell who repudiates the C.C.F. method of fighting inflation by price controls without wage controls.

The reliable Manchester Guardian reported a recent speech of the chancellor as follows:

"On the cost of living Mr. Gaitskell cut deep. He swept away much labor mythology about higher subsidies, higher taxes on the rich, higher profits and higher wages. To have held the cost of living steady over the past year would have cost an extra $1.8 billions in subsidies (on top of the present $1.2 billions); it could not be done and $150 millions talked of would have had little or no stabilizing influence. Direct taxation could not be much further increased without damaging industry or seriously affecting incentives. To take away all net income above $6,000 a year would bring in only $150 millions. So, says the chancellor in words his party at least should remember, 'We have to limit government expenditures.'"

If these words were uttered by some unknown person they would be denounced by the C.C.F. as the propaganda of big business. They come from a Labor government of which the C.C.F. claims to be the Canadian counterpart.

The essential difference between the British Labor Party and the C.C.F. is that the former has been in office and the latter has not. The Labor Party has tried the policy of the C.C.F. and seen it fail.

Despite every attempt to control them by state decree, British prices have risen, are now rising rapidly and, according to Mr. Gaitskell, will rise still more. As for the attempt to cure them by government subsidies, Mr. Gaitskell says bluntly that "it cannot be done."

The C.C.F. is fond of blaming the cost of living on the high profits of business. On this question, says the Guardian report, "Mr. Gaitskell threw a douche of cold water on many Labor supporters. 'We cannot really say that high profits have been an important cause of the rise in the cost of living,' he said. 'The increase in dividends, he showed, has been very much less than the increase in wages.' On the attack on undistributed profits he spoke realistically. To take them away and spend them on current consumption would be at once inflationary and a blow to industrial efficiency."

"In his closing passages the chancellor came to grips with what was most in the minds of his hearers—wages. He did not preach, but he showed skilfully that without restraint in wage demands we can on our own easily set off a new inflationary process. Some increase in the cost of living is inevitable and immediately foreseeable. We must let it go; there may be more settled prices by the end of the year. But prices here will go on rising through 1952 if we go on pushing up our own wage and salary costs."

In short, according to Mr. Gaitskell, the socialist, the C.C.F. theory of price control with subsidies and without strict wage control has been tried in Britain, it has not worked and it cannot work.

A Fine Record To Review

IT WAS CHARACTERISTIC OF Mayor Percy George that he should announce at such an early date his intention to retire from civic office when his present term expires at the end of December. The mayor has at no time surrounded himself with an aura of mystery. Straightforward in thought and dealing, he has given aspirants for the post he will vacate ample notice.

At no time during his tenure of office have issues of importance been "sprung" on the public through any action he has taken. His concept of the high responsibility imposed on a mayor has left little to be desired.

Percy George came to the mayor's chair over a long path of public and semi-public service. An earnest and effective worker in the Parent-Teacher movement, he advanced from that community field to the school board, serving there as he has served in his other posts, conscientiously and honestly, sparing himself neither time nor effort in the tasks he assumed. Recognition of his abilities, integrity and energy was shown in his elevation to the chairmanship, which he left to contest, and win, a seat in the city council. On his second bid for higher office, he was elected mayor. During the final months of the war, during the difficulties of postwar readjustment and on through years of growing tension, he has given himself wholeheartedly to his job, an undertaking in which he has been ably supported in the non-administrative sphere by Mrs. George.

The last seven years have been not easy for Percy George. A man of his character could not adopt a callousness to the problems with which a mayor is confronted—personal problems of those who sought his help and found in him a ready sympathy, and the larger problems of adjustment in a city suffering acute growing pains. His has been a course of many compromises, but not of compromise with the principles to which he adhered—principles of honesty, of progress and community well-being.

Few groups or organizations in this city have been unaware of his personal courtesy and his acceptance of responsibility to everyone in Victoria. Wherever he has been asked to appear, wherever his presence was calculated to be of assistance to a worthy cause, he has been prompt in attendance.

When his term expires, Mayor Percy George may look back on eventful years in the life of Victoria. He may look back with satisfaction at the role he has played in them. He may be sure of appreciation from a community for a job well done and one in which he has never spared himself.

More Taxes Ahead

ACCORDING TO THE RELIABLE Financial Post, the federal government is determined to put its new old age pension system on a self-supporting basis. Enough new taxes will be levied to pay the entire cost.

The government could use up its existing revenue surplus to pay for pensions, without increasing taxes, but this would be unsound for two reasons. In the first place, at the rate defense expenditures are mounting the present temporary surplus may well be spent during the next year. And even assuming it were not, there is no assurance that further surpluses will occur in the future.

On the contrary, since the surplus is the unexpected windfall of a wild, inflationary boom, anything like normal times could find the budget barely balanced at its present level. To build the pension scheme on the temporary surplus would be to build it on sand. Hence the government's wise decision to set up taxes by which pension costs can be paid without question in perpetuity.

The most obvious fact about pensions is that the public and the public only must pay for them—some sections of the public putting in the pot far more than they will ever get out in their old age. The only question is how this cost should be distributed.

The Financial Post says the government is thinking of a combination of taxes, partly on income, partly on corporation profits and partly on the price of goods. The government is said to feel that it would be impossible to place the pension bill exclusively on income tax payers, who are now a minority of the income earners. Somehow people who do not pay income tax must be made to contribute toward their own future pensions.

The simplest way of compelling them to contribute is to make them pay excise taxes. This is an unsatisfactory method, since it takes no account of ability to pay, and raises prices, though those prices presumably will be confined to non-essential luxuries. But probably the income tax vein already has been worked out and the government must get the money where it can.

How this will be done Mr. Abbott will soon tell Parliament. Meanwhile it is reassuring to hear that the pension scheme is not to be made dependent upon an unstable surplus, a kind of financial Cinderella without visible means of support in the future.

No Place For Them

ALMOST FORGOTTEN BY A WORLD engrossed in troubles undreamed of at an earlier date, seven former Nazi leaders this week marked the fifth anniversary of their sentencing to prison as war criminals.

Living under a Spartan regime in Spandau prison, in Berlin, they serve out their sentences, ranging from 10 years to life. Denied news of the outside world and little of the comforts of normal living, they might well ponder whether they or those who were sentenced to the hangman's noose were the more fortunate.

It will be natural that at this late date some may come forward with suggestions for the release of these men. Time has a softening effect on hearts as well as memories. But still too fresh in the minds of most men and women are the cruelties and terrors that these men let loose on the world. Too many still living had personal experience of Nazi tyranny of torture, degradation and the death of loved ones, and a global war that taxed the full strength of those who upheld decency and humanity.

The "living death" of the incarcerated men of Spandau is little enough punishment, little enough atonement for the evil in which they dealt. Several of them will eventually be returned to the world whose ruin they plotted. But it will be a world which, for better or worse, has passed them by.

Constructive Use Of Leisure

REGISTRATIONS FOR THE VICTORIA College evening courses have reached a total approximately 30 per cent above those for last year, reflecting increasing interest both in subjects which carry academic credits and those for which people enrol mainly for intellectual stimulation and enjoyment.

This week, too, directors of the Victoria Symphony announced that advanced sale of season's tickets has almost reached the year's objective.

When figures are compiled for the Greater Victoria School Board's night classes, a substantial enrolment will doubtless also be revealed. Such public interest, along with that shown in other fields—be they courses in natural history or lectures arranged by any one of a number of local societies and organizations—is a healthy development in any community.

The signposts point to a growing appreciation of a wide range of valuable leisure activities available in this community. An extension of the trend suggests an approach to one of the problems of our times—what to do with the spare time this age has given to people.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ALL LOYAL subjects of the King no doubt will observe the official rule by which Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh must be introduced to Canadian audiences in not more than a hundred words. Nevertheless, if this precedent is followed henceforth at all public meetings, a grave blow will be struck at the political, economic and cultural life of Canada.

Consider — if one must approach this subject from a crass economic standpoint—how many Canadians earn their living by introducing speakers at the beginning of the meeting and thanking them at the end. No wonder that the powerful Introducers Union and the College of Official Thankers are alarmed.

In a brief submitted to Prime Minister St. Laurent the Introducers Union warns against large-scale unemployment if their business is curtailed, and the College of Thankers, in a lengthy memorial, states that the Government "threatens to carry its deflationary policy to the point of national bankruptcy."

IT IS NOT just the national economy that is endangered by the wholesale unemployment of the introducers and Thankers. If it were only that we might regard the problem with complacency since the national economy is always imperilled several times a day. Whenever automobile sales fall off by one used car, whenever the undertakers have one less customer or a goosepucker's assistant is looking for a job the national economy is imperilled. We are used to that. The real threat of unemployment in the great introducing and thanking industry is against the nation's culture.

Though the Massey Commission unaccountably fails to mention it, the nation does not receive its culture from the distinguished speakers at luncheons, banquets and public meetings, since the speaker—sandwiched in between introducer and Thanker, never has a chance to say what is on his mind. He is merely the best in the sandwich, the minced beef. The real stuff does not come from the visiting amateur but from the local professionals.

WITHOUT the Introducer and the Thanker, men long trained for their duties, we might as well abandon our public meetings altogether. The speaker, after all, is only a pleasant fiction, an excuse for the serious business of introducing and thanking.

Mr. Augustus Peewinkle, president of the Introducers Union, tells me that it takes a lifetime of study to become a graduate Introducer, and the examinations set for all candidates are exceedingly strict.

For example, a candidate must be able to introduce a speaker and outline his entire biography without ever slipping and mentioning a single accurate fact. If the speaker is billed to speak on the Nuptial Rites of the Eskimos, an Introducer must be able to preface these remarks with a half-hour discussion of the world communist menace, the Canadian tariff and the need of a new civic garbage disposal plant.

AS THE official Introducer of Blueberry Lake, Manitoba, Mr. Peewinkle advocated a new garbage disposal plant whenever a distinguished visitor came to town over a period of thirty-one years. This, he says, required that special finesse which marks the skilled graduate Introducer.

Thus when introducing the late Lord Bennett, Mr. Peewinkle Minister should remind us all of the need of a garbage disposal plant. Or again, introducing the late Mr. Mackenzie King, Mr. Peewinkle began by observing: "A speech such as we are about to hear from this famous statesman should convince even the most sceptical that we must find new methods of disposing of our garbage." A subtle touch like that, says Mr. Peewinkle, comes only with practise.

IT IS TRUE that Blueberry Lake still lacks the facilities which Mr. Peewinkle advocated but he achieved, solely by his masterly introductions, a notable career in politics and would have been elected to Parliament if he had not received a minority of the local vote.

Mr. Egmont Fwerp, chairman of the College of Official Thankers, inclines to the view that thankings are even more difficult than introducing. "As he notes, an Introducer can say anything since the contents of the speaker's speech are then unknown. He has a free hand and an open field. But the Thanker must appear at least to make some reference to a speech which he has not foreseen."

Mr. Fwerp, as everyone knows, devoted his illustrious career in Sarnia, Ont., to the advocacy of cremation instead of burial. It might be thought that when Mr. George Drew spoke recently in Sarnia on price control Mr. Fwerp would be unable to deliver his usual fifty-minute address on cremation but to an experienced Thanker, that was easy.

MR. FWERP began: "One cannot listen to an address by a party leader without realizing at once that the great need of our Canadian politics is systematic cremation. Burial, clearly, is not enough. We must adopt fundamental remedies." And so on for fifty minutes, with suitable references to the United Nations, our Great Natural Resources, Full Employment and the Ethics of Government.

The speaker, of course, will be overlooked but the Thankers' career is assured from the beginning. Mr. Fwerp was almost elected alderman in Sarnia and, on moving to British Columbia, intends to run for the legislature in Esquimalt, like everybody else.

BUT, as Mr. Peewinkle and Mr. Fwerp say, if the basic industry of Introduction and Thanks is to be abolished, if our cultural heritage is to be cut off, if Mr. Fwerp's happy expression, "at the root," then the nation will be reduced to listening to the speaker. The first thing we know, speakers will be given the chance to speak, and all the great issues of our society, like garbage disposal and cremation, will be drowned in Mr. Peewinkle's apt metaphor, "in a tide of mere words."

In Our Time?

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

IT HAPPENED suddenly this morning. Perhaps we had been living in a fool's paradise all these weeks, and had actually drugged ourselves with the hope that it couldn't happen to us—that Hamish, the janitor's assistant in my old apartment-house Back East, and Col. S. Skeffington-Smuts (Ret.) and Anastasia Wiggs-Wiggs and Little Augie, the blind-pig king, would never get to our island.

And then, when we least expected it, of course it happened. We were sitting at the breakfast table when we first heard the sound of the plane's motors. Ten seconds later we were under the table, the trees around the house were bending and groaning, the shingles on the roof were rattling and the air was filled with a thunderous roar.

"Down in the cellar!" I shouted. "We're being dive-bombed!" "We haven't got a cellar," my wife yelled, while our small son crawled to the kitchen door, opened it and looked out.

"It's Superman!" he shouted, gleefully. I pulled him back to safety just as the unseen plane made another dive at the house. Something landed with a plop on the roof and rolled off.

"Incendiaries!" I cried. "Get a bucket of sand!" My wife, who was peeping over the sill of the kitchen window, suddenly said: "That's not a bomb. I can see it." "What is it, then?" I quaked.

"It's a tiger's head," my wife said. "Alive!" "Don't be silly. It's stuffed and mounted." The plane came shrieking down in another dive. I rushed to the door, flung it open and saw the machine go screaming out to sea, turn over a couple of times, start to climb into the sky and then, changing its mind, head back for the house.

Just at the moment the telephone rang and I grabbed it.

This is the local civil defense coordinating voice said. "Are you being attacked?"

"Are you kidding?" I shouted back, raising my voice above the sound of the plane.

Suddenly my young son yelled: "It's landing, daddy! It's coming down on the water!"

I left the telephone and ran out of the house. Sitting on the water, just off our point, was an amphibian aircraft. Dazed and bewildered, I could see several figures getting out of the plane and standing on the porpoises. One of the figures was waving a sword.

"Take a line there!" he shouted, and I recognized Col. S. Skeffington-Smuts (Ret.).

"Mr. Sturdy, I presume," another voice said, and I recognized Hamish. "I dropped one of my animal heads," a feminine voice broke in. "Did you see it fall?" that would be Anastasia Wiggs-Wiggs.

"Grittinks, pal." And that—no doubt about it—was Little Augie. I took the line they threw me and they swarmed ashore. "Better late than never," the Colonel shouted, and gave me a playful slap with the flat of his sabre. Hamish solemnly shook hands and Anastasia Wiggs-Wiggs, after being introduced by the Colonel, went off to hunt for her tiger's head.

Little Augie put his hand in his pocket and pulled out a gun. "Oh, excuse me," he said. "Wrong pocket." He fished in another one and passed me a business card.

"Little Augie," it said, "Purveyor of Potables to the Underprivileged. All Stock Genuine—And Uncut. No Cheques Accepted. Satisfaction Guaranteed." I turned and stared at Hamish. "Do you mean to say," I said, "that you flew that plane over here without a pilot?"

"Oh, we had a pilot," Hamish said. "But I had to take over the controls on account of..."

"On account of what?"

I went over to the plane and saw a white-faced young man just coming to. I asked him if he wouldn't come ashore and have some coffee or something, and he stared at me in horror and cried: "Are you crazy! With those people!"

He shuddered violently and reaved up his motors. And he was away before I had time to plead that he take me with him.

Growing Strength

Montreal Gazette

Comparative figures given in a recent review of the British defense effort, issued by the U.K. Central Office of Information, show an increase of nearly 135,000 in the active full time personnel of the forces in the year following outbreak of the Korean war in June, 1950, with parallel enlargement of the reserve and auxiliary forces.

Further enrollment since last June, when the combined strength of the forces was 826,800, has carried the program toward the current target of a total of 934,000 by next spring.

The figures provide an interesting revelation of the extent to which peace-minded Britain had demobilized when the Korean war drove home the potential menace of aggression and at the same time a marked contrast with the relatively small size of the forces prior to the outbreak of the Second World War in 1939. They also help to explain why British defense expenditures in the current fiscal year will absorb nearly a third of all government revenues and about 12 per cent of estimated national income.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

BY H. T. WEBSTER

Collectors

Ottawa Citizen

Gardening is something like stamp collecting. Once caught in its toils the victim has the same compelling urge to keep on adding new specimens to his collection. If he would remain content with what he has, he should leave that catalog alone.

For once he has opened it, he is lost. He may have plenty of good Darwin tulips in his garden, for example, but the book tells him about new kinds, and to judge by the descriptions, the present inhabitants of that bed out front are a bunch of tramps.

As Our Readers See It

FRIENDS OF ANIMALS
Animal welfare societies all over the world need more friends and members to fill empty places.

The following friends of animals have recently passed away: Nina, Duchess of Hamilton; E. MILK PRICE

Because of the conflicting reports regarding the price of milk, and the reasons why the producers are seeking a further increase, I wish to make the following statement:

Our application to the Milk Board asked for $6.72 per can of 3.5 per cent milk. This allowed for feed and labor only. Nothing was asked for taxes, repairs, interest on investment, light and power, etc. Since then, hay has increased in price again. Despite this the Milk Board refused our request and gave us only $5.90 per can.

As it was impossible to continue at this price we rejected the order and asked the Board to reconsider. The Board, without stating any reasons, refused to change the order and we appealed to the Cabinet. They gave us a very sympathetic hearing and we hope for an adjustment.

In the meantime meetings are being called in all areas to make further plans. We regret the increase in price to consumers, but unless we receive the cost of production we cannot stay in business.

The Island has too few basic industries now; it will benefit no one if the dairy business is destroyed.

RADIO TALKS

Fred Jarrett evidently thinks for himself, which is not popular today and the Times is to be commended for publishing his letter. Many do think sincerely and seriously but they are regarded as eccentric by those who allow the daily press to mould their ideas.

To Mr. Jarrett and others who desire an unbiased commentary upon the Human Comedy, I suggest listening to the series of talks on CBC by Bertrand Russell, Friday evenings at 9.30 p.m.

He is one of the world's great thinkers and his use of the English language is beyond reproach. We get his talks on the BBC, third program in the London "Listener," with talks by many other men, pre-eminent in their particular field.

We would recommend that publication strongly, to anyone desiring the last word in unprejudiced information upon many problems which perplex men's minds today.

The CBC is to be congratulated upon the series of talks originating by the BBC and we trust that they will become a permanent fixture.

NEW MEMBERS

The new Art Centre is advertising for a thousand new members, and many lovers of creative endeavor are inquiring as to just what membership in this set-up means.

It has been truly said that "our economic position decides our destiny."

First, is the scheme to be put on democratic lines? What responsibilities and privileges are extended to the different classes of membership?

Some years ago the Metropolitan Opera Company realized that the day of "stuffed shirts" patronage had outlived its usefulness, and it would be an error in judgment to expect to establish ourselves on these lines.

Volume of business seems to be the order of the day and the fees should be within reach of all.

Governing bodies in all avenues of our development seem to lose the SPIRIT of life, in their wild effort to govern.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"EVERY now and then," said the Elevator Man, "there's an item in the news about some joker who orders a lot of stuff delivered to a friend or enemy just to get his goat. There was a case in town here just the other day when a few bales of hay and some manure were left in the front yard of a victim. Other folks from time to time find themselves the recipients of a load of bricks, a coffin and a few dozen roses. Or maybe 30 pails of boots, a cord of wood, a crate of Buff Orpingtons and a couple of fire trucks. There's no limit to the things that could happen to you. We're all more or less at the mercy of practical jokers. The only justice comes from the fact that a practical joker has to live with himself. That's the penalty enough for most misdeeds. Going up!"

"Something much the same," said the Elevator Man, "happened the other day on the radio networks. A CBS actor told his audience not to clog the CBS lines with enquiries about the baseball score, but to phone NBC for information. And he gave them the number. The result was that the rival network was flooded with calls for the rest of the day and had to broadcast pleas for a let-up. It isn't often that one outfit will try to make its rival so popular, but it was a case of smothering with kindness that time. Going down!"

"Having too much of a good thing," said the Elevator Man, "reminds me of that story about the Russian satellite. A peasant in Hungary had to give a speech to his collective so he tried it out on his wife first. 'Under our glorious leader, Stalin,' he declaimed, 'our potato crop has been miraculous. The harvest has been so great that if we piled all the potatoes in one big heap, they'd form a mountain that would reach to the feet of God.' 'You'd better not put it that way,' said his wife. 'You know according to the Kremlin line there is no God.' 'Yes,' said the peasant, 'but there aren't any potatoes either.'"

Weather Synopsis

VICTORIA SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1951—2,295 HOURS

The southern interior, however, will have sunny skies today with some increase in cloud tonight.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

To Stand Trial For Gun Slaying

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Shortly before he lapsed into unconsciousness, 22-year-old Percy Jackson, fatally shot during a drinking party Sept. 2, told his brother, Gordon: "I am going to hell, but tell Mae (his wife) I still love her."

A short time later Percy died and his brother Gordon, 26-year-old logger, was charged with murder.

The shooting occurred after Gordon Jackson had threatened Mrs. Carl Anderson, at whose home Percy was slain, with a rifle.

At the preliminary hearing here Thursday witnesses testified that Percy Jackson had demanded the gun.

"Give me that gun, give it to me," he had demanded. "I sure will," said Gordon, and then a shot rang out, and the brother fell to the floor, fatally wounded.

Several witnesses testified that Gordon Jackson was "very drunk" at the time of the shooting at a logging camp on Quatsino Sound.

The accused was committed for trial by Magistrate Lionel Beever, Potts.

Mickey Regrets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mickey O'Rourke, 73-year-old Victoria Cross winner in the First World War, says he will be unable to meet the Princess Elizabeth and Duke of Edinburgh during their visit to Vancouver.

Mickey's friends are trying to persuade him to attend the city hall presentation of British Columbia V.C.s, to which he has been invited, but he says no.

"They wouldn't want to meet an old blatherskite like me, besides, my legs aren't so good and I would not be able to stand up for the whole ceremony."

As a clincher he added: "The seagab with all my clothes in it is being held at my last rooming house and I can't get it."

Private Michael James O'Rourke won his V.C. as stretcher-bearer in 1917 when he brought 40 wounded comrades out of no man's land under fire.

He returned to become a longshoreman and is said to have given away 60 cents out of every dollar he ever earned.

Toward the end of the depression during a dock strike, Mickey led a parade of strikers in a pitched battle with mounted police. First opponent he met face-to-face, to their mutual embarrassment, was Colonel (later General) W. W. Foster, chief of police.

He says: "When we saw we were beat, I beat it—but I heaved a brick at a mounted policeman, though."

He lives in a $22-a-month room in downtown Vancouver.

Government Sues

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Government has started suit in Supreme Court at Vancouver against Union Steamships, Limited, as the result of a fatal collision in Howe Sound last year between the forestry department vessel A. L. Bryant and the steamship Lady Cynthia.

The government is suing for $20,000 for loss of the forestry craft, and $6,100 for loss of the use of the boat and equipment.

Three government employees lost their lives in the collision. The government alleges the Cynthia was proceeding without a proper lookout, or that the ship had such peculiar steering equipment that the helmsman did not know how to handle it in an emergency.

Odds On Tories Shorten 1 To 3

LONDON (CP)—Odds on the Conservative party's chances of winning the Oct. 25 general election shortened today to 1 to 3. The ruling Labor party now is a 2 to 1 shot.

When betting opened a couple of weeks ago the Conservatives were slightly less than even money. Early this week the odds were shaved to 1 to 2. Now the best you can get is 1 to 3.

A west-end bookmaker, who said the Conservative price had been down by a "ton of money," added that the new odds do not reflect any last-minute political developments.

Bootlegger Fined

Pleading guilty to a charge of unlawfully selling liquor, Samuel Smith, 840 Johnson Street, was fined $300, or in default three months in jail, in city police court Thursday. He paid the fine. Evidence was that Smith sold some liquor to a policeman.

TRAVEL FILM DE LUXE

Rotarians See Movie By Retired Victorian

A top-flight travel film, "Holiday in England," was shown to Victoria Rotarians at their weekly meeting Thursday by Ernest H. Scott, retired manufacturer who has made film production a full-time hobby.

The film which runs 24 minutes and was shot in Kodachrome, was taken by Rotarian Scott during an extensive trip in which he took pictures in New Zealand and Latin America as well.

Originally "Holiday" was 4,000 feet, but Scott edited it down to 800. He had it scored in Hollywood. Narration is by a prominent CBS announcer, Jimmy Matthews.

Professional in every detail, "Holiday" starts in London and takes viewers through Wales, the Cotswolds, the Lakes country and back to Piccadilly.

Color throughout is magnificent.

FAMOUS CUSTOMERS

The Victoria film-maker, who resides at 3441 Mayfair, was formerly president of Scott Radio in the United States, makers of luxury radio equipment.

Among clients who have signed autographed pictures for the Scott home in the Mount Tolmie area are Lily Pons, Jascha Heifetz, Vladimir Horowitz and Yehudi Menuhin.

An associate still produces the famed Capehart machines.

Mr. Scott has been interested in film-making for 15 years. He came to Victoria to retire but now owns five cameras and one of the finest 16 mm. laboratories in Canada.

"I did the English picture because I love England," Mr. Scott told Rotarians. "My aim is to show people who can't make the trip what they would see on a similar tour. I believe such films contribute to international understanding."

DINNER POSTPONED

Officials of the Esquimalt branch of the Canadian Legion report a dinner set for Saturday night has been postponed.

Colored slides of scenes from all over the world, sent by the 13th International Salon Exhibition of Photography, will be shown at the legion club rooms on the night of Nov. 8.

Comeback? Don't Mention The Word—Norma Shearer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Norma Shearer says she isn't planning a comeback, "because I never have retired."

Miss Shearer, one of the top names in Hollywood during the '20's and '30's, hasn't made a picture in almost a decade.

Rumors of her return to acting started last week when she played a dramatic role on a radio show.

NO DESIRE

"The radio performance was merely a lark," she told me. "It was a very pleasant one, indeed, and I enjoyed myself immensely. But I have no desire to return to acting on a full-time basis."

"I have never had any notion about a comeback. I hate the word."

"I never retired. I merely decided I wanted to devote my time to other interests. I have read a lot of scripts since then, and I still do. But so far I haven't found anything that excited me enough to want to return."

Miss Shearer, who is as glamorous today as she was on the screen, added that she doesn't know how she could have found time for film work. Her life has been full. She has done a great deal of traveling with her husband, ski-minded Marty Arouge.

Holiday Coho Derby At Cowichan Bay Has $950 In Prizes For Big Ones

By ROY THORSEN
Three days of fishing and $950 worth of prizes.
That's the bait for the lower island sport-fishing clan this Thanksgiving week-end at Cowichan Bay. The occasion is the popular annual holiday week-end coho derby of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club.

Hundreds are expected to flock to the up-island tourist resort bay to try their luck with fighting coho and that lucrative prize list made up of dollars (those greenbacks you like to fondle for a while on payday) except for the $215 combination radio-phonograph.

It'll be a profitable week-end for the derby entrant who reels in the biggest coho of the three days. He'll bag 100 bucks in cash and the music box. That adds up to $315.

At this writing (Thursday night) fishing was said to be good at the bay and let's hope it stays that way and let's hope that starts at daybreak Saturday morning and ends at 4 Monday afternoon.

"The rising barometer during the latter part of this week indicates that we'll have fair to middlin' weather for the three days—we hope. With the glass reading that way it should mean a pretty good brand of fishing," said Lee Halberg, ex-president and top booster for the club.

Anglers who participate should understand that only artificial lures are permissible for those who angle for the dollar bouquets in this event.

"We will not tolerate anyone who uses the killer—flasher and herring," said Lee. The club is sure that if anyone is allowed to use the dodger-herring lure the take would get so large the fisheries department would clamp on new restrictions on sport-fishermen.

There is a good possibility that this type of lure may be banned by government order in non-open areas like Cowichan Bay.

The club is definitely against the herring-flasher lure. This week they had proof-positive that this offering is "dynamite."

LOCAL SIDE PRIMED

United To Face Vancouver City

Victoria United, still unbeaten in Pacific Coast Soccer League play this season, will face one of its stiffest hurdles tomorrow when Vancouver City travels over to the Island from Vancouver.

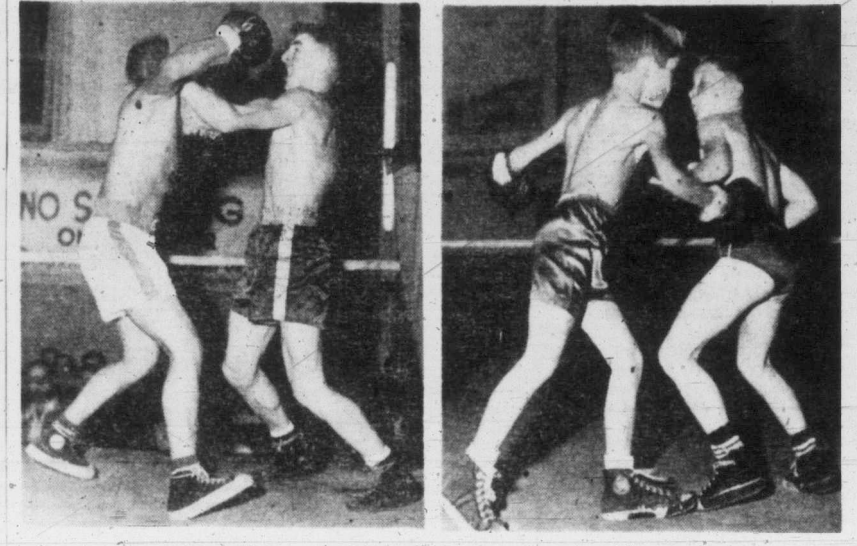

Though City was beaten 4-2 by Firefighters at Callister Park last Saturday, the Greenshirts showed more spirit and good soccer than they have for many a day.

The club recently made a managerial change, Jimmy Gray taking over from "Jack" Copland who took City to the dominion championship two years ago. At the end of last season City were noticeably slipping. In fact their decline can be dated from the time brilliant centre-forward Wallace Milligan went to Victoria. Since then they haven't been able to find a centre-forward who could "make" goals as well as score them.

HAILEY HELPFUL
Last Saturday City got hold of John Halley, formerly of St. Andrews, and his dash made a considerable difference. However Saturday's game may be the last Halley will play. He leaves shortly to play hockey in the East.

Vancouver is a team which plays best on grass, and against Victoria they have the first opportunity this season of doing so.

The half-back line, one of the youngest in the Coast League, is also said to be the best. Right half Jackie Dewhurst, centre-half Pat Philley and left-half

Gunner Gets Revenge On Fight Card Opener

At The RINGSIDE
By DENNY BOYD

A little whisper of a tad ebowed his way up to the press table. Instead of watching the action in the ring, he had eyes only for a reporter's scribbled notes.

"Are you going to put my name in the paper?" he asked in a dubious voice. He was one of the prelim fighters, a 55-pounder named Tommy Douglas. "Why should we put your name in the paper, what did you do?" he was asked.

"Well, gee, I knocked a kid right out," he said, his eyes the size of saucers.

"You did? What did you hit him with when you floored him?" "I hit him with my fist of course," he replied.

He did too.

The boy he knocked out, Russell Ashworth, was around as large as life at the prize-giving.

NO SALE?
But it also seemed that several teams which could buy Williams, weren't interested.

The White Sox official said the Red Sox asking price was "too much."

"We want Williams," he admitted. "In fact we would give up plenty to get him. But we're building and they're going to want too much. We can't give up four or five of our fine young stars to get him, even though he still is as great a hitter as there is around."

RAINERS SIGN BILL SWEENEY
SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle Rainiers have signed Bill Sweeney to succeed Rogers Hornsby as baseball manager.

The Seattle Times baseball writer in New York reported a three-year contract was signed there yesterday between general manager Earl Sheely and the erstwhile Portland skipper.

Emil Sick, owner of the Pacific Coast League team, said here this morning he had not been advised of the actual signing, but he assumed it had been done: "they were working on it last night."

Both Sheely and Sweeney are in New York for the World Series.

Sports writer Lenny Anderson said Sheely made the announcement.

World Series Odds? 6-5...Your Choice

Market Backpeddles Quickly After Miracle Men Murder The Yankees

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Giants are still baseball's miracle team, but for one day at least their act was cold. Leo Durocher's winning gamble with his No. 4 pitcher and some prodigious hitting by Monte Irvin gave the Giants a 5-1 victory over the mighty New York Yankees in the opening game of the world series yesterday. But many of the 65,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium were still talking about the Giants' tremendous victory in the National League playoffs Wednesday.

It was like following Milton Berle with a dog act, or following a dog act with Milton Berle, depending on your personal tastes. Not even Hollywood could top the hysterics of the pennant-clincher against Brooklyn Dodgers.

Apparently Durocher can do no wrong in this most remarkable comeback story in all baseball history. He took a chance with lefty Dave Koslo and got away with it against Allie Reynolds, who warmed up for the series with a no-hitter against Boston Red Sox.

New Durocher has Larry Jansen (23-11) ready for today's second game at the Stadium. Jim Hearn (17-9), Monday's play-off winner at Brooklyn, is set for Saturday and Sal Maglie (23-6) ready to come back Sunday with three full days rest.

HURLERS RESTED
Instead of a weary crew of staggering pitchers he has his three best ready to go in order. And the Yanks already have used up the feared Reynolds. Retreating in confusion from 8 to 5 favoring the Yanks, the market now says 6 to 5 and take your pick.

With the Giant array of right-handed batting power, Eddie Lopat (21-9) is no cinch to square the series for Casey Stengel. A control pitcher whose stuff usually produces many fly balls, Lopat will have to be threading the needle to escape trouble from rioting Bobby Thomson and Irvin.

That man Irvin, finally hitting his stride as one of the great hitters in modern day baseball, really had himself an afternoon against Reynolds.

Monte tied a series record with four hits, one a triple, stole home against Reynolds with the second Giant run in the first inning and contributed two fine catches. What more can a man do in his first World Series game?

DARK ENDED IT
Irvin and Koslo were the story until Al Dark hammered a three-run homer into the left field seats in the sixth. That nailed it down.

With a right-hander going for the Giants, Stengel will juggle his lineup. Bobby Brown will go to third with McDougall moving to second and Gene Woodling will play left field.

Durocher has little hope of playing Don Mueller in the series. The Giant right fielder regular sprained his ankle in Wednesday's wild ninth inning against the Dodgers. Hank Thompson, who did a capable job yesterday, will continue in the outfield, dropping down in the order to lead off.

Bob Thomson hit third against Lobat.

After today's game the scene shifts to the Polo Grounds for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, if necessary. It will be the first series in the Giant park since 1937, when they lost to the Yanks 4-1.

Of course, if it should rain today they'd stay right in the Stadium until they get the second game in the records.

Red Sox Put Williams On Block In Rebuilding Move

NEW YORK (UP)—Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox cloutier long considered a "million dollar ball player," has been offered for sale to at least four American League teams, it was learned today.

Free-spending Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey, fed up with the repeated failures of his team, has decided now is the time to part company with Williams, one of the greatest left-hand hitters in league history and one of the highest paid players ever at $100,000.

The White Sox, Indians, Tigers and at least one other club have already been asked what they would offer for Williams in a trade.

A highly-placed White Sox official, who revealed that Williams was "on the market," said that the Red Sox wanted players and not money in return. Since the Sox would want several good, big-name players, the desire would limit the number of teams that could bargain for him.

NO SALE?
But it also seemed that several teams which could buy Williams, weren't interested.

The White Sox official said the Red Sox asking price was "too much."

"We want Williams," he admitted. "In fact we would give up plenty to get him. But we're building and they're going to want too much. We can't give up four or five of our fine young stars to get him, even though he still is as great a hitter as there is around."

Duncan Meets Legion Squad
Don Grey, secretary of the Victoria and District Football Association, announced yesterday that the Duncan Native Sons will meet Legion in a soccer game on Saturday, as was previously scheduled.

Gray said that he had phoned the managers of both teams in an attempt to get the game played, on Monday, instead of Saturday. The Legion manager was in agreement with the plan, but the Duncan manager stated that it was practically impossible to play Monday, because some of his players had to work.

Gray is now trying to arrange to change one of the two games scheduled for Sunday to the following day.

Duncan and Legion will meet tomorrow at Lower Beacon Hill at 2:30. Sunday games will be between Esquimalt and Heaneys at Royal Athletic Park at 2:30; and Alecto and Victoria West at Lower Beacon Hill at 2:45.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

EDMONTON—Frank Currie, coach of the Edmonton Flyers of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, is a quiet, soft-spoken individual, who will, if pressed, disclose that in his four years here his Flyers have never been out of the league finals, but what Frank really means is that in those same four seasons, the Flyers have never finished worse than first in league play. He'll admit too that in 1948 he led the Flyers to the Allan Cup. Two league championships also hang from the wall of his private office beside a picture of the Montreal Canadiens whom he still regards as his parent club.

It was like that in the amateur days — the Canadiens gave Currie much of the help he needed and are still acting in fatherly fashion. This despite the fact that the Canadiens also have an agreement with Frank Selke, boss man at Montreal.

However, the deals which see two Montreal farmhands in Flyer livery were made long before the possibility of the Western Canada League becoming part of the P.C.H.L. had even reached the blueprint stage.

The players in question are Colin Kilburn, a home-brew Edmontonian who literally set the W.C.H.L. on fire last year with his prodigious scoring feats, and Howie Cox, a three-year veteran of Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior League.

Two years ago Cox was regarded as a sure-fire N.H.L. prospect but something went amiss last season and a change of scenery was decided upon. Currie recommended Edmonton as a lovely spot to spend the winter. Selke agreed and Cox readily fell in with the plan.

Kilburn being a local boy, it was thought only right that he continue his minor league association with the club with which he gained his stature.

Currie Is Confident Of Fast Start

Currie doesn't know how his club will stand up in the P.C.H.L. though he hedges a little by saying "I won't be too worried about a poor start. The club has potentialities."

One of the largest of these is Doug McCaig, a 32-year-old defenceman who can lay claim to five seasons in the big time in a career which dates back to 1940.

Teaming with McCaig on defence will be 24-year-old Pat Coburn from Omaha of the U.S.H.L. and of whom Currie says "he'll hold his own."

The other defensive unit in front of goalkeeper Bill Brennan, who comes to the Flyers by way of Omaha, Fresno and other whistle stops, is made up of Cox, and Bill Pettinger, a holdover from last year's amateur club.

Flyers also have a "kid-line" to match the Cougar's triumvirate, but rather than enmesh on the Victoria pseudonym, the Edmonton trio could well be called the league's "baby line."

The players, all graduates of the Windsor Spitfires, are Eddie Joss, Eldor Thomas and Earl Johnson. Johnson and Joss played on the same line last year. And real babes they are too, all three are but 19 years of age.

First Line Big And Experienced

The big line—"I'd rather you wouldn't call them the first line," Currie said—is composed of Jim Uniak at centre with Nellie Podolsky at left wing and Mott McLean on the right flank.

Uniak was the rookie award winner at Omaha in the U.S.H.L. two years ago with 60 scoring points in 63 games. He divided his time between Omaha and Indianapolis of the A.H.A. last season.

Podolsky is a high-scoring veteran with service at Indianapolis and Detroit while McLean was an established U.S.H.L. star before the league folded, this past winter.

The third attacking force features Kilburn, Henry "Pop" Backor and John Raynak, the latter two having played practically their entire hockey career as linemen since midgey days in Fort William, 10 years ago.

Hartley McLeod from Omaha is the Flyer's utility expert "and he's a good one," asserts Currie.

Flyers Will Be Ready For Takeoff

This is the team, well blended with experience and youth, of whom Currie says even now with the Flyers' first game still a week away: "I won't be worried about a poor start. The club has potentialities."

With further assistance expected daily from Detroit, with whom the Flyers have a working agreement, it would appear conceivable that Currie knows whereof he speaks.

Individuals Will Open Hoop Season With Eilers

Victoria Individuals will play their first Inter-City Basketball League game of the season away from home. They will play the season-opener against Vancouver Eilers on Nov. 2.

They then return to make their home debut Nov. 7.

Individuals are scheduled for nine games—four at home and five on the road—before the Christmas holidays. Following the game with Eilers on Nov. 2, they will meet the Clover Leafs on the next night.

On Nov. 17, the Victorians will tangle with Mount Vernon in the home opener, and then on the following week they will play a home-and-home series with Alberni Athletics, meeting at Alberni Nov. 23, and Victoria Nov. 24.

Eilers and Clover Leafs will meet the Individuals in Victoria on Dec. 8 and Dec. 15, respectively. Then the Victorians will travel to Mount Vernon on Dec. 21, and to Bellingham the following night.

The league schedule, which will have to be approved at the league general meeting at Nanaimo, Oct. 20, will conclude on Jan. 19, with playoffs to be arranged.

Myron And Speller Fill Mat Opener

Two local wrestlers, Tyke Myron and Roy Speller, will twist arms in the opening bout of the wrestling card at the Bay Street Armory tomorrow evening.

Feature of the program will be the double main event. Tickets for the wrestling may be obtained at Perk's Newsstand. The first bout starts at 8.30.

PORTLAND, Me.—Ralph Jones, 141, Yonkers, N.Y., outpointed Ben Stetson, 156½, Portland, Me., 10.

WORCESTER, Mass.—Herman McCrea, 144½, Philadelphia, and Eddy Vaccaro, 141, Boston, drew, two bouts stopped because both suffered cuts over their left eyes.

"It's a home run!"

Canucks Try Cats Tonight

Cougars To Try For First Win In Pre-Season Perambulations

By BILL WALKER
Times Sports Editor

VANCOUVER—Victoria Cougars, champions of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, today arrived in this city given over to Murph Chamberlain, the Vancouver Canucks and the Mann Cup lacrosse series, hardly the same cocky young crew which swaggered out of Memorial Arena Friday the 13th of April with that championship dangling from their belts.

No crowns were being worn at rakish angles as the once recognizable brash young brats of coach Roger Leger stepped off the C.N.R. Transcontinental Limited which has been their home since they left Saskatoon Tuesday night.

Rather the laurels were buried deeply under the avalanche of three exhibition defeats on the prairies, buried with the confidence of the Cougars of old.

It will be a sombre crew, ready and willing, which takes the ice at Exhibition Forum tonight in the first step in defense of these laurels. But basically the same aggregation which was humiliated by Saskatoon and Edmonton earlier this week.

LEGER, usually good for a few words, refused to be quoted on outcome of tonight's game except to say he would use all 15 men at his disposal; if he has 15 men.

The discrepancy exists due to the possibility of centre Doug Anderson not arriving from Montreal in time for the game.

However, if Anderson, assigned to the club Wednesday, does show, he will work with the Joe Evans-Joe Medynski unit, which line has been without a leader since training camp opened 15 days ago.

Fred Hildebrand, also recently signed, will likely be used in relief, as he has had little if any ice time this year.

Stick with the same defensive combinations which have been in force the past seven days. Bernie Strongman will partner Flori Geogan and Leger will pair up with Leon Bouchard.

KIDS IN TACT

Bob Bowness will work with league-scoring champion Eddie Dorohoy and Jack McIntyre with the "Kid-Line" of Reg. Abbott, Andy Heberton and Bob Frampton remaining intact on the other forward units.

General manager Fred Hutchinson was particularly silent on possible player transactions. He has had no reply from Tacoma coach Muzz Patrick concerning an offer made by the Cougars for an unnamed player earlier in the week; however, he admitted under questioning he was still thinking seriously of acquiring a defenceman from the Canucks, one being available and the Canucks willing.

Jim Shirley who was reported suffering from a groin injury following Wednesday night's 6-0 defeat at Edmonton, will be fit to play. It was reported by trainer George Wilkinson. Shirley's injury proved not as serious as first

MONTREAL BOWS TO MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Some sportswriters saw in the Little World Series last night a resemblance to the downfall of the Montreal Royals' parent club, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Montreal blew a 10-2 lead held over Milwaukee after 2½ innings to lose 13-10 and be eliminated from the junior classic. The Dodgers had a 4-1 lead over New York Giants Wednesday in the rubber game of the National League playoff going into the eighth inning, only to lose 5-4 in the ninth and miss out on the World Series.

Seven-A-Side Tourney Set

Crusaders' second team, with five former McKechnie Cup players on their roster, are favored to win the Victoria Rugby Union's seven-a-side tournament at MacDonald Park tomorrow afternoon.

The tournament will be in the form of a knock-out tournament between the six teams and the games will be played according to Rugby Union rules, with two-man scrums.

The tourney will start at 2.45, with the first two-round matches being played on the upper and lower grounds.

VICIOUS CONTROLS NEEDED

Free Press Discussed

Some impediments blocking complete freedom of the news were discussed by Seth Halton, publisher of The Daily Colonist, and Art Stott, associate editor of the Victoria Daily Times, with members of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club at its meeting in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel Thursday night.

Speaking at the club's observance of National Newspaper Week, for which the current slogan is "Freedom Is Not Free," both referred to the obvious vicious control of the press in dictatorial countries. Beyond that they noted various practices closer to home in which democratic agencies adopted systems which curtailed freedom of access to news and left citizens who should be informed without full information.

NOT WELL POSTED

Stott drew attention to a policy practised in Oak Bay by which the municipal authorities conducted municipal business on straight business lines, highly efficiently and with high purpose. He noted, however, that residents were not as well posted as they might be on the actions and debates of their elected representatives and did not have before them all the evidence on which to form independent judgments.

Halton expressed the belief there were too many restrictions still imposed on the press.

"There are," he said, "too many large and small public bodies meeting behind closed doors." He criticised the inclination of governments of all levels and public bodies of all sorts for assuming the right to privacy of action.

"We believe their deeds are public deeds, and we strive to make them so."

Free Gold Market For Canada Soon?

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated today an early announcement may be made on the question of establishing a free market for Canadian gold.

Asked when a statement on the question of allowing free export of gold for industrial purposes might be forthcoming, Mr. St. Laurent replied:

"We don't like to keep people waiting on these matters any longer than we have to."

Brindle Calls Attention To Home Fire Precautions

A seven-point program for fire safety in Victoria homes was outlined Thursday by Fire Chief R. T. Brindle in preparation for Fire Prevention Week, starting Sunday, across Canada.

Chimney cleaning and inspection, regular check of oil-burning equipment and of electrical circuits to make sure they are not overloaded are urged.

Victorians are warned to be careful of cigarettes and matches and to keep matches out of reach of children. Other points are: Clean out combustible rubbish from closets, attic and basement; be careful with inflammable liquids; have roof covering in good state of repair. Firemen will visit schools and give forms to students to fill out on fire prevention.

WANT INCREASE

OTTAWA (CP)—Fred Whitehouse, president of the Civil Service Federation of Canada, said today the federation intends to press for an "immediate adjustment" in the salaries of Canada's 120,000 federal government workers.

The nose on the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor itself is four feet six inches long.

What the political scene needs today is a new word. That word is "smirk." Nothing else quite catches the nuances of modern campaigning. You won't find it in the dictionaries yet. The dictionaries haven't caught up.

"Smirk" is a reasonable development of the times. If you want to lend it legitimate endorsement, you can say it stems from the American language, which makes an unwilling admission of English parentage, which in turn is a milligan of Anglo-Saxon, romance influences. Latin and Greek with a few pinches of seasoning brought back by roaming sailors from other civilizations.

"SMIRK" IS A combination of "smear," "smirk," "irk" and "gripe" in simple definition, but the whole is greater than its parts. It's excessive use creates political "smog"—which is what you have in campaigns these days.

The "smirk" lacks the positive active qualities of the smear. The person who uses it isn't quite ready to come out and charge an opponent with beating his wife. He'd rather ask questions like, "Which parties did you run for before you accepted this nomination?" or "What happened to you when you tried to win the leadership of the party you left?" or "What does it mean when a man says he's a socialist-capitalist?"

The approach packs an innuendo, but you couldn't tie it right down, and the person who used it could weasel out by saying he was only asking a question.

THEN, IT HAS that shade of bitterness that comes from someone who is completely "irked"—the guy who might, if he possessed a greater sense of security, say, "This I don't like, at all, at all. I'm agin it and I'm saying so." Only the guy isn't prepared to come right out and say it.

He has a gripe, but he's unwilling to let go with a roundhouse swing for fear he'll drop his guard in the process and leave himself exposed to a counterpunch.

The word is virtually the opposite of "me-tooism." It describes the position of the bandwagon-jumper-offer who's a bit too timid to leap and tries to slide over the tailboard, one foot dragging on the road, when the wagon seems to be headed off the highway and down the rocky ravine.

It's an unpleasant word, "smirk," and describes an unpleasant condition. Sound matches meaning. In its simple form it's both noun and verb. The adjective is "smirgish," the adverb "smirgishly" or "smirgily." The comparative is "smirgier" and the superlative "smirgiest."

IT DESCRIBES the end product of the activities, usually vocal, of the fence-sitting would-be opportunist.

It's a harsh word to the ear, a dismal word to the mind, a thoroughly objectionable word. But it's descriptive.

Victoria Man With Guard On Royal Tour

A Victoria man will be in the spotlight when Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip visit the R.C.A.F. station at Trenton, Ont., on Oct. 12.

Flight-Lieut. James M. Wicken, deputy flight commander of the radio officers' school at the Centralia air station, is to be commander of a 100-man guard of honor for the Royal couple.

He is putting the 100 flight cadets, who will make up the guard, through their paces every day in preparation for the event. He himself is becoming as proficient with a sword as he is with radio controls.

Flt.-Lt. Wicken has commanded honor guards on three previous occasions.

Victoria Breaks Tourist Record

Arena Survey Aid Promised

Engineers' Association By-Law Could Delay Job; Unprofessional Conduct Charge Feared

All aid in expediting the delay on Memorial Arena survey, owing to a question of professional ethics, was promised today by Col. R. E. Wilkins, registrar of the Association of Professional Engineers of B.C., at Vancouver.

On the other hand, as the association considers the crux of the problem—"a fine legal point"—further delays may be encountered.

"Our first duty is to protect the public interest and anything we can do in that regard will be done," said Col. Wilkins commenting on the demand Thursday of City Council's finance committee for quick action.

Committee claimed the association was disregarding public interest, and will protest by letter. Problem arose when a by-law of the association prevented the firm of Swan, Rhodes and Wooster from surveying the area, because the city had repudiated payment of $8,900 to Charles T. Hamilton, former consulting engineer.

Question of whether another engineer can go in, is out of our power," Wilkins maintained.

"He admitted an engineer who took the job would be taking a 'chance' of later being charged with unprofessional conduct."

Wilkins stated the problem resolved around a point in the association by-law as to whether the issue between the city and Hamilton had been "joined at law."

COULD PROCEED

If it has been joined, another engineer is free to proceed, he said.

"Some lawyers advise we might construe that the issue has been joined and others feel not," Wilkins said.

H. W. Davey, K.C., arena commission member who told Thursday's finance meeting that the association was ignoring the paramount question of public interest, said Swan, Rhodes and Wooster would be able to survey the arena, if the association adopted the advice of its own solicitor regarding the by-law in question.

COMPENSATION ACT

Argument in the inquiry into the Workmen's Compensation Act will open Monday morning, Oct. 15, in the Court of Appeal, Vancouver, at 11. It was announced today.

Workers Ignoring Pickets

Another company-union meeting was scheduled for late this afternoon in the today-old strike by 400 shipyard boilermakers here. More workers are crossing picket lines.

Little chance is seen that today's meeting will provide any settlement to the heated dispute over wages.

The meeting is to be private, arranged directly by officers of the Victoria Shipyard Workers' Union, Local 238, and the management of V.M.D. and Yarrows Ltd.

Only change in the general strike picture was that more workmen, who were away from work last week out of respect to the strikers' picket lines, today ignored the pickets and returned to their jobs.

At V.M.D. about 200 workmen were at work. At Yarrows, about 160 men turned up.

Normally, about 600 men would be at work at both yards.

BOTH SIDES FIRM

Both company and union sides in the dispute say they intend to stick by their last proposals so far as the wage question is concerned. The companies have offered a raise of 25 cents an hour. The boilermakers are asking for 50 cents. Basic pay for boiler-makers now is $1.60 an hour.

The companies say the 25-cent offer was acceptable to other shipyard unions and that they could not afford to offer more to the boilermakers.

CLAIM DISCREPANCY

The boilermakers, in reply, say that since 1939 their pay had dropped far behind that of other shipyard trades.

Other trades, they say, have won increases of from 135 to 184 per cent over 1939 wage levels. A 50-cent increase to boilermakers now would mean an increase of only 13 1/2 per cent over their 1939 level, they claim.

"We're not trying to get ahead of the other trades," a union spokesman said. "We're just trying to catch up."

Mrs. Mona MacGillivray and David, 4.

Victoria Soldier Wins Mention In Dispatches

Sixteen Canadian soldiers, including a Victoria captain, have been decorated for bravery in the face of the enemy on the Korean front. Army H.Q. in Ottawa announced today.

The local man on the list is Capt. Charles A. MacGillivray, 33, of 629 Foul Bay Road. He is with the Second Regiment, R.C. Horse Artillery.

Capt. MacGillivray was mentioned in dispatches.

With one exception all the soldiers are alive and with their units of the 25th Brigade in Korea, the army said in announcing the award of a Distinguished Conduct Medal, four military medals and 11 "mention in dispatches."

Distinction of being the "fighting soldier" went to Pte. Wayne Robert Mitchell, Virden, Man., of the 2nd Bn., P.P.C.L.L., who, twice wounded, is credited with "extraordinary courage."

He won the D.C.M. When informed of the award won by her husband, Mrs. MacGillivray was elated.

"He's a hard worker and I'm glad to hear he has been decorated—but much more glad to hear that he is alive," she said.

IN LAST WAR

The captain, formerly of the Prairies, served throughout World War II in the artillery. He saw service in the Aleutians, was aide-de-camp to Gen. Potts of the 6th Division and served through the Northwest Europe show with the 12th Canadian Field Regiment, R.C.A.

Capt. and Mrs. MacGillivray have two children, Letty, aged eight, and David, four. The captain has seven brothers in various parts of Canada.

Says Sum Obtained By Fraud

A verdict was expected late today in the case of Clifford Wellington Knibbs, Victoria contractor, standing trial in Assize Court on a fraud charge.

The contractor is accused of obtaining by false pretence a sum of $735 from Zilla Hall, Shawinigan Lake, in connection with a contract for repairs to a house at 2322 Shakespeare Street, Victoria.

Grey-haired Mrs. Annie Bowden, business agent for Miss Hall, is principal Crown witness in the case.

She testified that the accused told her that the house would be condemned by the city and would have to be moved.

She said she went to see the city building inspector J. D. Oosterink, who informed her that he had no intentions of condemning the house.

"I met Mr. Knibbs after seeing the city building inspector," said Mrs. Bowden. "I told him he lied."

Urges Probe Into Swindle

The police commission and an "unprejudiced committee" should carry out an investigation "without fear or favor" into the activities of convicted swindler Clyde Gillies, W. A. Scott, Victoria victim, said Thursday.

His statement came after Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced no evidence had been discovered to suggest that any other persons but Gillies were involved.

Scott said he himself would help in the probe. Scott has written to the attorney-general asking return of all documents relating to the investigation. He said Wismer had exceeded his authority by attempting to make a personal and final decision on what was to be a public investigation on behalf of the swindled public.

City Tax Flow Sets New Mark

Nearly 90 Per Cent Of Yearly Bill Paid Before October Deadline

Victoria taxpayers set themselves a record this year. On Oct. 1 deadline 89.4 per cent of the year's levy had been paid into City Hall.

It was a 3.4 per cent increase in collections over the same period last year. Collection of arrears also increased. Last year it was 56 per cent and this year 58.5 per cent.

A total of $2,478,357 of the total levy of $2,771,465 was received by the Oct. 1 deadline, after which penalties are imposed.

Estimate of collection by the year's end is 93 per cent, which leaves the assessor-collector's department 3.6 per cent or approximately now and then.

$100,000 IN TWO DAYS

"Many people wait to the last minute. We received $400,000 in two days, said A. G. Joyce, assessor-collector.

Last year's levy was $2,515,256 of which $2,161,931 was received by the due date.

"I am agreeably surprised to learn of the increase in payments on the due date," said Mayor Percy George. "It signified the importance the public attaches to the well-being of the community."

Commented City Comptroller Henry Watson: "It is better than expected with the increased cost of living and reports we get of decreased spending. At the same time it shows people want to protect their interest in their property."

The sum of $129,693 of a balance outstanding of $221,683 was collected in arrears by the due date this year. This was an increase over last year's collection.

HOUSE STRIPPED

During the last three months, thieves have stolen $350 worth of fixtures from a house at 951 Bay Street, David White, 1721 Kings Road, told police Thursday night.

GIRLS ARRESTED

Two girls, aged 14 and 15, were apprehended Thursday for theft of three sweaters in a local department store. They were turned over to juvenile officials.

Capt. Balcom, Old Sealing Skipper, Dies

Funeral services were held in Halifax Thursday for Capt. Berton Miller Balcom, well-known west coast sealing captain, who died Oct. 3, while visiting his brother, Capt. Will Balcom.

Capt. Balcom, who was 77, made his home at 1150 Faithful Street, Victoria. He had been away from this city since June.

The captain, who operated a sealer out of Minstrel Island for many years, saw service as an R.C.N. captain in the First World War. Born in Halifax, he went to sea as a boy and won his master mariner's certificate at an early age. He came to the Pacific Coast in his early twenties.

Remains are to be brought to Victoria for burial at Royal Oak. Interment is on Thursday at 3 p.m. A graveside service will be conducted by Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

Capt. Balcom leaves, in addition to his brother, three sisters: Mrs. Minnie Smith, of Halifax; Mrs. Jessie Foster, of Bridgeport, N.S., and Mrs. Allie Pace, of Toronto.

with the FIELD ARTILLERY

The only possible answer to the forces of aggression already on the march, is armed, trained strength. The Canadian Army is gearing itself to meet any possible threat to our freedom.

More and more men are joining the Active Force every day. New and mighty equipment is being built to give the Canadian soldier the finest weapons in the world.

One of the most urgent needs is more men — more soldiers in the Canadian Army Active Force. This is a call to duty — a call to the defence of this country.

In attack or defence, artillery supplies the heavy punch to soften or break opposition for the modern army. The Royal Canadian Artillery is a powerful voice in the defence forces of this country.

The teams of field artillery are not built overnight. It takes time and training. But time may be short. Men are needed immediately to man the field artillery of the Canadian Army Active Force.

No 'Crick-A-Back-Itis' If You Read This Column

By PENNY SAVER

I've got news for you! It may not shake the world to its roots, but it surely will give you a new lease on life.

Just think of all the morning's you do a double flip, a back-ward bend, and a hand-stand. Why all these contortions?

When you think about it, you may realize that this is what you do trying to get the ring off the bathtub.

You rub and you scrub—practically break your back in the attempt. If you're lucky you will get it to sparkle like new, but it has a queer habit of developing another ring by next morning.

Oh! My aching back! Well, here we go again! But this time we will try something different!

Powdered bleach is the answer. Just shake a little bleach on a cloth and your tub or sink will be sparkling in no time flat, without rubbing. You will hardly recognize it when you get through and as for you—no flips, no bends, no handstands!

This wonder package sells for half a dollar and has more tricks tucked up its sleeve than a magician.

Her Fav'rite Friend

A girl's best friend is this dolly! Tall as a two-year-old—30 inches—she has curly straw yarn hair, movable arms and legs. Easy to sew, grand for a gift.

Dress dolly in daughter's outgrown size-2 dresses. Pattern C7118; transfer 30-inch-doll only.

Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Times, Household Arts Dept., 60 Front Street W., Toronto 1-A, Ont. Print plainly name, address, pattern number.

Needleworkers! Have you seen our 1951 Alice Brooks Needlework catalogue? Send 25 cents for your copy today! Illustrations of patterns for crochet, knitting, embroidery and other fascinating handwork. A free pattern is printed in the book.

You'll praise it for its action on your porcelain fixtures, but just wait, the best is yet to come.

When you think of bleach you naturally also think of the rather potent odor that goes along with it. You guessed it. Powdered bleach is odorless and is kind to your hands in the bargain.

Just as it saved the day before when you scrubbed out the bathtub, so it will stand by you when you are trying to restore the lustre to your washable colored sweaters. It is safe for wool, nylon, silk and rayon.

By using the bleach you won't be bothered with extra rinsing or soaking; it isn't even necessary to worry about the length of the bleaching period. Just carry on as usual and end up—with amazing results. It actually saves time.

As a matter of interest, powdered bleach softens hard water, helps to make suds and is safe for septic tanks.

What more could you ask?

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Unsightly Complexions Are A Common Complaint

Q—"Will you please tell me what to do for some small white bumps on my neck? They are not pimples or blackheads but are very unattractive."

A—"These may be whiteheads. Stimulation will help. Wash your neck with soap and water. Use a complexion brush in a rotary motion for stimulation. It may be that these bumps are very small warts. If so, have them removed by a dermatologist."

Q—"During pregnancy the skin on part of my face darkened and the doctor called it 'The mask of pregnancy.' After the baby was born this discolored area cleared somewhat, but is still very much darker than the rest of my face and gives it a stained, dirty look. I have tried using a dark make-up but this is unbecoming because the rest of my complexion is fair. I had a complete physical checkup not long ago and am in good health. Is there any way I can get rid of this?"

A—"Evidently during pregnancy the pigment of your skin changed. If this is so, I do not know of anything you can do for it. However, I think it would be well worth your while to consult a good skin specialist. Perhaps he will know of something. They do wonderful things now. Perhaps you are using a make-up which is too dark. Try one only slightly darker than your skin, one which has some peachy tones in it. There are several products on the market especially for covering skin discolorations, such as yours, scars and other disfigurements. Ask your cosmetic clerk about these."

Q—"I am a girl of 14 and am troubled with a complexion full of ugly red pimples and dingy blackheads. I have tried a lot of creams but they did not help."

I am fairly pretty otherwise but because of this I am reluctant to go to dances or parties."

A—"You should avoid creams. Do not try to squeeze the blackheads out. Go to a dermatologist and have them expertly removed. He will also advise you about your pimples. If the condition is not extreme, you can probably overcome it yourself by leaving creams off and washing your face four or five times a day with soap and water. Apply a drying substance (calamine or alcohol) to the pimples. Do not open them. Do not handle your face. Sunlight often cures a case of pimples. Why not lie under a sun lamp this winter? Follow directions so you do not remain in the light too long. Be sure your diet is good and cut out rich foods, especially chocolate."

Tomorrow—"Most Reducers Will Reach Temporary Standstill Point."

Rules On How To Be A Good Chairman

NEW YORK (AP)—There are 5,500,000 women's clubs in the United States.

And at least half their presidents do not know the basic parliamentary rules for conducting a meeting, says Alice F. Sturgis, author of a standard code of Parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Sturgis, a recognized parliamentarian, had been studying the procedure of a group of national organizations. One of the first things that struck her was the astronomical number of groups in every U.S. community. The next was the need for a knowledge of recognized rules of procedure.

For the millions of women who this year will preside at meetings of their local clubs, she suggests 10 rules on how to be a good chairman:

1—Don't use the club for your personal glory. If you put the good of the organization first the personal plaudits will follow.

2—Don't keep on being president after your term is over. Give the new leader a chance.

3—Be sure you understand the basic policy of your organization, and follow it.

4—If you have an unpleasant duty to perform, do it outside the club meeting. Don't use the rostrum as a centre for a cat-and-dog fight.

5—Follow, don't push. Your job is to carry out the wishes of all the members, not to bend them to your own will.

6—Watch principles instead of technicalities. You need to know the rules of parliamentary procedure, but remember that the reason for rules is to facilitate business.

7—Remember that the president of a club is in the position of a judge. Don't take sides with one faction against another.

8—Don't campaign for your own election. If you have to fight for the chairmanship, you probably are not yet ready for it.

9—In presiding, be sure that there is a quorum present, that everyone understands each motion, that plenty of time is given to discussion, that the vote is taken accurately, that the will of the majority is carried out and the rights of the minority protected.

10—Observe the rules of parliamentary procedure and you will be safe from legal difficulties, avoid lawsuits and misunderstandings.

Chop avocado pear in small pieces. Beat with egg beater until pear is about consistency of whipped cream. Serve one spoonful in clear consommé. Elegant to look at and elegant to eat!

King's Daughters Move To New Rooms, Continue Serving, Tea, Coffee, Milk

This week the King's Daughters moved to quarters in the new Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club hall, 904 Government Street.

Without a break, the move was made, tables set up, and the group continued to serve tea, coffee and milk to business girls and men, who come to their rooms at the noon hour to eat lunches they bring from home and enjoy a restful hour of relaxation.

New quarters are clean and comfortable, attractively decorated and with a large kitchen. There is a lounge with chesterfields and comfortable chairs.

King's Daughters' lunch room was first established in Victoria in 1913 by a small group of local women who felt the need for a central spot in the business district where those who preferred to bring their lunch might have a comfortable place to enjoy it. Where they might relax and rest for the price of a cup of tea, coffee or milk.

Service has been continued without a break since it started. Members of the King's Daughters give voluntary donations of time and money to this work. The project has never been a paying affair, nor has it been self-supporting.

"If it fills a need in the city, the work will continue," one of the King's Daughters group said. "We hope the winter season, in new, comfortable quarters, aid home, assistance to V.O.N. patients, redecorating and furnishing the King's Daughters cottage at Sunshine Camp, purchase of a wheel chair for a hospital case, gift of a radio-phonograph for the new building for the blind, parcels of food for overseas, the Red-Cross and Queen Alexandra Solarium.

HOME GARDEN

With the coming of the rain and the cooler weather, there is much activity in the home garden. The fruit crops must be harvested and put into storage. The squash and pumpkin fruit is to be gathered before frosts and carefully laid on shelves to avoid bruising. All ripe tomatoes should be picked and laid in trays—one near-frost has already touched the vines of all our tender crops, and the blossoms of such plants as zinnias and dahlias. Sweet peppers and egg plant being grown in old frames may be completely gathered and the plants added to the compost heap. The space in the frames will be better used for plants of winter lettuce, spinach or flats of perennials.

seedlings too small to plant out until early spring. For the pleasant accomplishment of these and all the many tasks of fall and winter, the gardener needs comfortable, suitable clothing. This is an absolute necessity if one is to continue the enjoyment of garden work through the wet cold season ahead. Do not be satisfied to use just any old pair of worn out shoes in the garden. Be sure that they are, first of all, waterproof and secondly, that they are large enough to accommodate the extra pair of woolen socks which make all the difference between comfort and chill. A waterproof jacket reaching to the hips, under which a sweater may be worn is another honest hope to persuade every woman gardener to wear slacks for winter work. With the waterproof jacket, a head covering and a warm pair of gloves, many happy hours can be spent doing these essential jobs in the garden which will make for beauty next year.

Court Hearing Adjoined On Track Earnings

EDMONTON (CP)—Mr. Justice J. D. Hyndman of Ottawa yesterday adjourned an exchequer court hearing of an income tax dispute in which William S. Walker of Winterburn, Alberta, claims tax exemption for $17,863 he says he won through race-track betting. The minister of internal revenue is appealing a decision by the income tax appeal board in April, 1950, which upheld Walker's claim. Through his counsel, Eldon Foote, Walker is claiming that the race-track winnings do not constitute income. Mr. Foote said Walker won the money purely through luck and a knowledge of horses. The government says that a net worth statement for the period between 1941 and 1947 was examined and as a result Walker was taxed on $25,414. A. F. Moir, counsel for the government, said the winnings constituted income and were taxable. HEFTY CALF HILLERED, Denmark (Reuters)—A newborn calf here weighed 138 pounds—claimed to be a world record. New-born calves normally weigh about half that amount.

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

Expansion Seen In Industry

CALGARY (CP)—Growth of Canadian manufacturing will exceed the rate in the United States in some cases in the next few years. John R. Suman of New York, vice-president and director of Standard Oil Co., said last night. Mr. Suman, also past president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, made the prediction in an address to the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. He foresaw many years of expansion for all North American industry, particularly for industries discovering and developing the continent's natural resources. This growth would require close economic co-operation between Canada and the United States. But "this co-operation cannot be on the basis of one country supplying the materials and the other doing the processing, since such a partnership would be economically wasteful as well as distasteful. Instead, the processing should be done where it can be done most economically and as many barriers to efficiency and economy as possible should be removed. In a great many cases this will probably mean that the rate of growth of processing industries over the next few years will be more marked in Canada than in the United States. This is a logical thing to look for since the growth in natural resources is more marked in Canada than in the United States and natural resources industries pave the way for secondary industries, as any visitor to Alberta can testify."

21st Grain Cargo

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—The port of Churchill was officially closed yesterday when the Ss. Warkworth sailed for the United Kingdom, carrying 346,800 bushels of wheat. Some 21 cargoes of grain shipped from the port this season totaled about 7,000,000 bushels—500,000 more than last year's record. Last season 20 ships were cleared from the port. NORTHERN RIVER The Yukon River flows for about 2,000 miles before entering the Behring Sea.

Probe Ordered In Sanger Case

Death Of Victoria Man Facing Murder
Trial Spurs Investigation At Oakalla

BURNABY (CP)—A full investigation into the hospital at Oakalla Prison Farm was demanded today by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of Daniel Leroy Sanger.

The jury found that Sanger, a 60-year-old Victoria man awaiting trial on a charge of murder, died of a heart condition after he had arrived at the prison.

Warden J. H. Millman, brought back from his holidays to testify, was questioned for 20 minutes to day. The inquest opened yesterday but adjourned today to allow the warden to testify.

He said he had not been notified officially of Sanger's death until nearly 12 hours after he had died. He was on annual leave at the time, but was in town.

Warden Millman also admitted, in reply to a question by the jury foreman, that he was not satisfied with hospital conditions at the prison. He said he had brought the conditions to the attention of the department which is charged with responsibility of the prison, four or five times in the past few years.

OVERCROWDED
"We are overcrowded," he said, "and we have had no expansion of hospital, in spite of my complaints."

The coroner's jury, in a rider to its verdict, recommended also: A resident doctor be attached permanently to the prison. A qualified medical orderly with first aid certificate be on duty at the prison hospital at all times.

The attorney-general be notified of the lack of medical information and necessary medical treatment given to prisoners by Victoria city police to R.C.M.P. officers acting as prisoner escorts.

The murder charge on which Sanger was to have been tried resulted from the death of 24-year-old Mrs. Gwen Casswell, whose body was found in his basement apartment in Victoria on Sept. 9.

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier has ordered a formal investigation into the Aug. 30 collision between the steamship Prince Rupert, owned by Canadian National Railways, and the Princess Kathleen, owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was announced today.

British, Aussies Aid Newest Push

Commonwealth Troops Take Part In U.N. 'Killer Drive' Breaking Communist Line

TOKYO (Reuters)—Commonwealth troops today swept forward three miles in Korea to wrest another mountain "Magnet line" from the Chinese.

Britons, Australians and Canadians, storming forward for the third day under a mammoth artillery barrage, loosed the Communist grip on a string of forest-clad hills and ridges protecting their main western front defense system.

Centurian tanks rolled forward along the top of the ridges with the leading companies.

The Chinese defended their hillside redoubts with fanatical resistance under a storm of high explosives and napalm which turned their positions into blazing cauldrons.

By tonight, the Commonwealth Division was firmly entrenched on all but two of the main objectives.

FATS PUSH ON
Infantrymen of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry

try and the Royal Canadian Regiment fought a two-hour battle with mortars and machine-guns before dispersing a rear-guard group of Chinese from one hill, but the rest of the Canadian troops climbed the slopes without difficulty to secure the ridgeline by mid-afternoon.

ALLIES SHATTER 'WINTER LINE'

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (UP)—The United Nations' 100,000-man offensive in west Korea has broken the Communists' "winter line," a British staff officer said today.

Battered Red armies gave up their fortified positions and reeled northward before the crushing onslaught of five U.N. divisions which captured seven strategic hills on the third day of their push along a 40-mile front.

"The Chinese broke and ran this morning," Brig. George Taylor told the United Press at a western front command post of the British Commonwealth Division.

"I feel that we have handed them a major defeat and I believe we have broken their winter line."

HILLS SEIZED
Taylor said the hills seized in the Allied offensive today were fortified with bunkers 20 feet deep, indicating that the Chinese Communists had dug in for the winter. The Chinese left new winter gear behind when they fled, Taylor said.

Eleven B-29 Superfortresses thundered out ahead of the U.N. ground forces and blasted the centre of Pyongyang. They dumped 130 tons of bombs on the 1,200-foot steel railway bridge across the Taedong River, which bisects the Red capital.

The Superfortresses reported only "meagre" anti-aircraft fire and no fighter opposition. All returned safely to base.

At the same time, American jet fighters shot down one Soviet-built MIG-15 jet and damaged another in two battles over northwest Korea. A total of 136 planes took part in the two dog-fights. In one, the U.S. jets were outnumbered nearly three to one.

Record Trading
TORONTO (CP)—A tremendous final-hour drive today sent the volume of issues traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange to the highest level in the exchange's history.

More than 2,000,000 shares changed hands during the last 60 minutes to boost the day's turnover to 6,639,000 shares.

Jury Brings In Neglect Charge Here

A coroner's jury today brought in a verdict of culpable neglect against motorist Sydney Pegg, 27, of 46 Sims Avenue.

It came at an inquest at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlors into the death of Mrs. Gladys Frew, 48, of 520 Walter Avenue. She was a passenger in the car of Pegg which crashed into a telephone pole on Gorge Road last Saturday.

The jury said the present sign at Gorge and Harriet Roads is not adequate to warn the driving public of a dangerous hilly curve.

Pegg will face trial on a charge of manslaughter laid by Saanich police.

Cougars Get Help For Game In Vancouver

Special to the Times
The short-handed Victoria Cougars, who open their Pacific Coast Hockey League season in Vancouver tonight, received needed bolstering from Montreal Canadiens this morning.

The Canadiens, parent club of the Cougars, have sent Dewar Thompson and Gunter McNeill. They will report to the club Monday.

Thompson is a centre while McNeill is a defenseman who played last season with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Reporting to the Cougars Wednesday will be Doug Anderson, who was assigned Wednesday. He played centre and left wing with Edmonton Flyers last season.

BORROW PLAYER

There is a possibility that Cougars may buy a defenseman from Vancouver Canucks tonight. The Cougars will dress Gordy Kerr, on loan from Tacoma Rockets, for tonight's game if he reports in time.

LA PRESNA TO 'REAPPEAR'

JANSEN LOSES DUEL

By LEO H. PETERSEN
NEW YORK (UP)—The New York Yankees, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Eddie Lopat, evened the world series by defeating the New York Giants 3-1 today.

Coming back from yesterday's 5-1 opening game defeat, the American League champions hopped on Larry Jansen, Giant star righthander, for single runs in the first and second innings which proved to be enough to win.

OLD SERIES FANS MEET AT STADIUM

NEW YORK (UP)—Two old-timers who spent the night at the head of the Yankee Stadium bleacher line jointly claimed the honor of being "world champion world series fans" today.

B. J. (Barney) Dever is 80 years old, but as soon as he left yesterday's game he set himself up in front of the box office for today's game. Right after him came Roy Paul, who is 51. Dever is from Windber, Pa., near Johnstown. Paul is from Des Moines, Ia.

"This is my 34th world series," Dever proudly told reporters.

"Rookie," snorted Paul. "I've seen every world series since 1917. This is No. 37 for me."

Rookie Gil McDougald then dropped a single to short right field and Mantle sped across the plate.

His teammates got him a run before Jansen, a 23-game winner, could retire a single batter.

MANTLE INJURED
Mickey Mantle, who later sprained his right knee in running for a fly ball and had to leave the game, started it off by heating out a bunt. Little Phil Rizzuto bunted too. Mantle racing all the way to third when Giant first baseman Whitey Lockman threw wildly in a belated attempt to throw Rizzuto out.
